

Privacy policy.

Privacy Policy of Family Heritage Search

The Family Heritage Search privacy policy sets out how we use and protect any information that you give Family Heritage Search when you use this web site.

Family Heritage Search is committed to ensuring that your privacy is protected.

Should we ask you to provide certain information by which you can be identified when using this website, it will only be used in accordance with this privacy statement.

Family Heritage Search may change this policy from time to time by updating this page. You should check this page regularly to ensure that you are happy with any changes. This policy is effective from 1st January 2011.

What we collect

We may collect the following information:

1. Name.
2. Contact information including email address and home address.
3. Other information relevant to customer surveys and/or offers.

What we do with the information we gather

We require this information to understand your needs and provide you with a better service, and in particular for the following reasons:

1. Internal record keeping.
2. Family History Research.

What we may use the information for.

1 On occasions we may you send promotional email about new products, special offers or other information which we think you may find interesting using you email address or home address.

2 On occasions we may also use your information to contact you for market research purposes. We may contact you by email, phone, or mail.

Security

At Family Heritage Search we are committed to ensuring that your information is secure. In order to prevent unauthorised access, we have put in place suitable physical, electronic and processes to safeguard and secure the information we collect online.

How we use cookies

A cookie is a small file which asks permission to be placed on your computer's hard drive. Once you agree, the file is added and the cookie helps analyse web traffic or lets you know when you visit a particular site. Cookies allow web applications to respond to you as an individual. The web application can tailor its operations to your needs, likes and dislikes by gathering and remembering information about your preferences.

We use traffic log cookies to identify which pages are being used. This helps us analyse data about web page traffic and improve our website in order to tailor it to customer needs. We only use this information for statistical analysis purposes and then the data is removed from the system.

Overall, cookies help us provide you with a better website, by enabling us to monitor which pages you find useful and which you do not. A cookie in no way gives us access to your computer or any information about you, other than the data you choose to share with us.

You can choose to accept or decline cookies. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to decline cookies if you prefer. This may prevent you from taking full advantage of the website.

Links to other websites

Our website may contain links to enable you to visit other websites of interest easily. However, once you have used these links to leave our site, you should note that we do not have any control over that other website. Therefore, we cannot be responsible for the protection and privacy of any information which you provide whilst visiting such sites and such sites are not governed by this privacy statement. You should exercise caution and look at the privacy statement applicable to the website in question.

Controlling your personal information

You may choose to restrict the collection or use of your personal information in the following ways:

1. Whenever you are asked to fill in a form on the website, look for the box that you can click to indicate that you do not want the information to be used by anybody for direct marketing purposes
2. If you have previously agreed to us using your personal information for direct marketing purposes, you may change your mind at any time by writing to or emailing us at martin@familyheritagesearch.co.uk

We will not sell, distribute or lease your personal information to third parties, unless we are required by law.

You may request details of personal information which we hold about you under the Data Protection Act 1998. A small fee will be payable. If you would like a copy of the information held on you please write to Family Heritage Search 56 Church St, St Georges, Telford, Shropshire, TF2 9JZ.

If you believe that any information we are holding on you is incorrect or incomplete, please write to or email us as soon as possible, at the above address. We will promptly correct any information that is found to be incorrect.